Let us help you create winning proposals!

Compete for government contracts by learning how to write and organize a responsive proposal and build relationships with federal agencies.

This workshop will teach you how to:

- Identify contract opportunities that are realistic for your company
- Understand how the government describes what it needs
- Prepare responsive and effective proposals
- Improve your chances at winning government contracts

Presented by: Scott Barker

This workshop will be presented by Scott Barker, the Director of the Procurement Technical Assistance Center (PTAC).

Barker was named the Director of the PTAC program this fall after serving as a Procurement Counselor in Greenville since 2017.
